MICHIGAN SECTION 271 AMENDMENT TO INTERCONNECTION AGREEMENTS

(N)

A. DESCRIPTION

General

The Michigan Section 271 Amendment ("M2A" or "Mi2A") is an interconnection agreement amendment offered by the Company to Competitive Local Exchange Carriers (CLECs) which provides the rates, terms, and conditions under which the Company will agree to provide, as part of the Section 271 collaborative process established in Case No. U-12320, certain existing and new combinations of Unbundled Network Elements ("UNEs") in order to facilitate its in-region interLATA approval. The UNE combinations offered include: existing Unbundled Network Element Platform (UNE-P); certain new UNE-P; and, certain existing and new loop-transport combinations known as Enhanced Extended Loops (EEL). The combinations will be priced consistent with the Commission's findings in Case Nos. U-11831, U-12320, and U-12622. The CLEC signing on to the Mi2A agrees that this product offering meets the requirements of Section 271 (c)(2)(B)(ii) for purposes of providing combinations of network elements subject to actual provisioning of such combinations, satisfactory Operations Support System (OSS) testing, and performance measures results. The initial term of the Mi2A expires on September 28, 2002. If the Federal Communications Commission approves Ameritech Michigan's application to offer in-region interLATA services by June 28, 2002, then the term of the Mi2A will be extended until March 28, 2005.
